

BERCHTESGADEN

12K - 26K - 44K

SATURDAY 17TH OCTOBER 2026

EVENT GUIDE

WELCOME TO BERCHTESGADEN

We are incredibly excited to welcome you all to Berchtesgaden in just a few short weeks. The whole team have been working hard to put on the highest quality event possible, and we cannot wait to have you along.

Our team is made up of passionate runners and outdoor enthusiasts, who have come together to make up a collective of people who are both experts at organising events and experienced participants, having taken part in hundreds of races throughout our personal running journeys. Our motto at RunThrough Trails is 'Run Inspired', and we hope you can come away fully experiencing that.

We will have many runners for whom this will be their first time taking part in any trail race, as well as runners who have competed in multiple ultra-distance trail events throughout their lives. We are sure you will go through some tough moments, but this is why we take on such challenges - to test ourselves and step outside our comfort zones to learn more about who we are.

It is also of the utmost importance to us that you do so in the safest way possible. With this in mind, a few members of our team will be heading out in the early hours of race day to do a final course check of strategic areas before our pre-race runner briefing.

We can't wait to see you all on race day, so please come and say hello. Our team can be found in purple high viz, located across the course and in the event village setting you off at the start and welcoming you back over the finish line!

All the best of luck and see you soon!

THANK YOU TO OUR PARTNERS

TRAIL RACE CHECKLIST

Whether your first trail race or first RunThrough Trails race, we are looking forward to seeing you on race day! Use the information below to help with your training, race plan and navigation.

PLANNING AND TRAINING

Trail races are very different to road races. Plenty of practice on the hills and tricky downhills will give you confidence on race day. Remember to forget your split times and enjoy the views.

A course recce is the best possible prep, however, we appreciate that it isn't always possible!

COURSE AND NAVIGATION

All RunThrough trail races are marked with bright orange flags and tags, directional arrows and no-entry crosses. Additional marshals are in place at critical and strategic positions, however, courses are not marshalled like RunThrough road and park races and there will be no distance markers.

Unfortunately, as with any trail race, course markings can be interfered with. For this reason, it is mandatory to have the route on a phone, watch or GPS device to self-navigate if necessary.

PLAN FOR RACE DAY

Travel & Parking - With many trail races in remote locations, checking public transport and parking will be critical to arriving in time before your race for kit-check and bib-collection. We highly recommend car sharing where possible.

Kit-Check & Race Bib - All races will undergo spot checks for mandatory kit when collecting your race bibs. If you plan on collecting your bib the day before, please remember to bring your race kit ready to show.

Spectators - Spectators are always welcome at the Event Village & at aid stations (Please see page 15 for specific locations), we hope you can contribute to creating a fantastic atmosphere for all participants.

PLAN YOUR KIT

A mandatory kit is in place for safety, with spot checks conducted before the start of all races, with some races having a full kit check. This will be specified on the event web page and in the event guide.

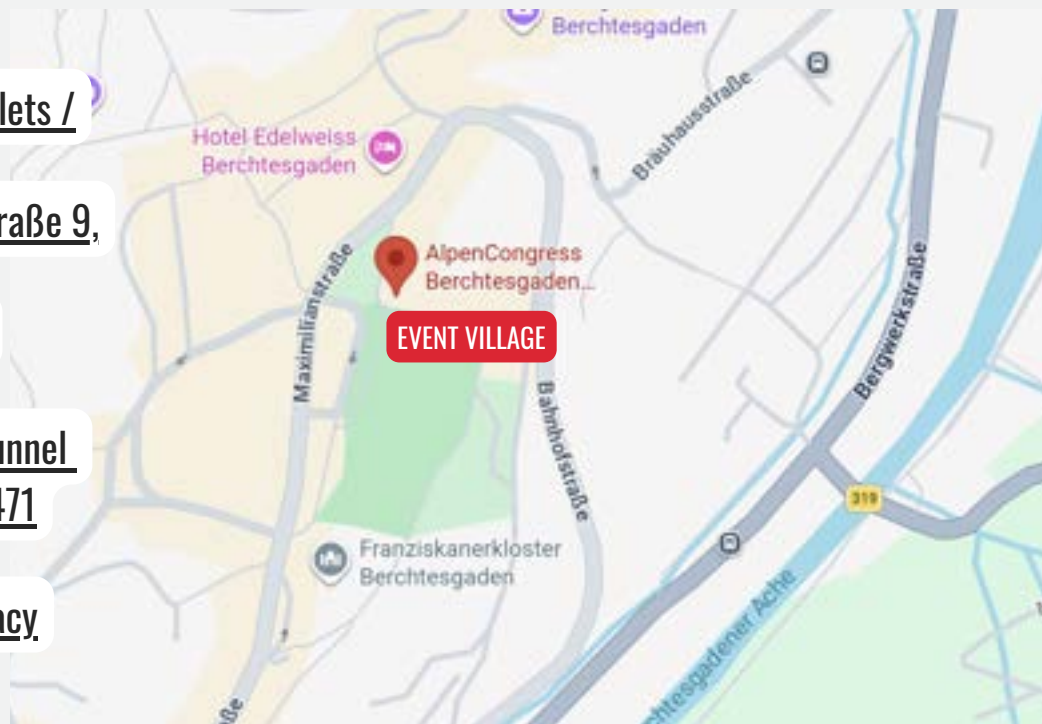

Each race has a standard mandatory kit and an additional mandatory kit, in case of adverse conditions. Additional Mandatory kit will be stated in the event guide and on the website, with the race director communicating any activations of the additional mandatory kit at the earliest possible convenience.

NUTRITION AND FUELLING

Our well stocked Aid Stations provide a range of hydration and nutrition at strategic distances in the race. While we endeavour to offer a wide selection of inclusive refuelling options, we recommend bringing a sufficient supply of nutrition for more specific dietary requirements.

Exact fuelling can vary by race & distance, with hot options being made available in the latter stages at certain events only.

We encourage runners and spectators to arrive early and car share where possible. Looking after the environment and providing sufficient car parking is crucial to ensuring everyone can enjoy the event, while respecting the local environment, people and businesses.

TRAVEL

If travelling by car, there is ample parking around the town. Please arrive early to find a suitable spot. Please note, there is no event specific parking. Please respect any pay and display & parking restrictions within the town.

If you live or are staying locally, we advise walking to the event village, as this will help avoid any traffic on arrival.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

There are also public transport options if you don't have a vehicle. There are multiple bus stops surrounding the venue, served by lines from the city centre and elsewhere.

Berchtesgaden Hbf train station is located 800m walk from the event village.

EVENT LAYOUT

Please note the Start & Finish line is located further down the HighStreet. Once you've collected your race pack, and dropped any bags, please walk to the start HERE for your event briefing. Please note- late starters won't be permitted due to venue restrictions.

REGISTRATION & INFORMATION

Race bibs can be collected at the Alpen Congress starting the day before the event 4pm-7pm. Limited bib collection will also be available on the morning of the race, but we strongly recommend that participants collect their bibs and GPS trackers (44k only) in advance to avoid last-minute stress and potential delays.

10min before each race, there will be a race briefing by the start, please attend this ready to run, as from here you will be walked to the start line ready to hit the trails.

KIT-CHECK

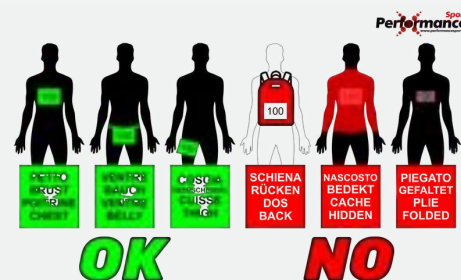

We have a mandatory kit in place to keep you safe throughout the race, and we'll be spot-checking before you collect your race bib.

Please remember to bring this your kit with you to the registration desks.

Additional spot checking is at the Race Director's discretion before, during, and after the race, with failure to produce the required kit resulting in disqualification or time penalties based on the offence.

BIB COLLECTION

Your race bib contains your timing chip, medical form and the medical phone number. Please make sure you attach this well and fill in the information on the back; this is part of your mandatory kit. (Best positioning for your bib is on your chest or on one leg. Please don't put on your back, inside your backpack or underneath water bottles and jacket).

You can collect this, along with safety pins from the registration desks in the Event Village. The 44k race will also be provided with trackers. (You can track 44km runners HERE).

BAG DROP

Attached to your race number, use your bag tag to leave belongings in our bag drop area to collect post-race.

Please ensure you collect your bag and any other belongings when you finish.

TOILETS

There will be toilets located in the Event Village. Should you require any sanitary products, please visit our staff at the information marquee who will be able to help you.

Trail racing is a fantastic blend of spectacular scenery, amazing racing and pushing to achieve amazing goals. It is also a team effort. It's a commitment from the RunThrough Trails staff, our partners, and you to create an event that challenges you and creates memories that last a lifetime.

RACE PREPARATION

By taking part in a RunThrough Trails event, you are agreeing that you are physically fit and accept the risks of participating in a trail running event.

Trail running events are physically demanding by their nature, providing risk that all participants need to understand before heading to the start line.

Being fit, able and wearing the correct kit is all part of preparing responsibly for a trail running event.

EVENT DAY MEDICS - +49 151 28868266

our team of doctors, guides, and Samaritans are contactable throughout the race. They are on hand to respond to medical situations and coordinate with the RunThrough team or external emergency medical services if necessary.

Saving the medic number is part of your mandatory kit. This will also be printed on your bib.

Medic Number: +49 151 28868266

NAVIGATING THE RACE ROUTES

RunThrough Trails proudly implements world-class route marking, using bright orange flags and tags with a reflective strip, small red arrows and red crosses.

Unfortunately, routes can be disturbed by many things: the weather, disgruntled walkers and wildlife, to name a few! To keep you safe, we provide the GPX for your race route.

It is mandatory to have the route loaded and accessible on a mobile device, so you can check you're on track throughout the race and course correct/self-navigate if necessary.

OUR COMMITMENT - LEAVE NO TRACE

We require permission from a huge number of stakeholders to enable our races to take place. To do so, we commit to respecting the landscape, local people, businesses and wildlife.

By entering a RunThrough Trails Race, you too commit to this mission by:

Leaving no litter - Closing all gates - Keeping to the routes

Please note: Littering or leaving gates open may result in disqualification and removal from the race.

Mandatory kit will be spot-checked when collecting your race bib on the morning of the race. Please be ready to show the marshals any of the kit requested from the mandatory kit.
If you'd like to purchase mandatory kit from our RunThrough Kit supplier, this can be pre purchased HERE

 Felix Pichler and Berchtesgadener Land

COURSE MARKINGS

All routes will be marked using bright orange flags and tags with a reflective strip, small black and yellow and red crosses.

Unfortunately, routes can be disturbed by many things: the weather, disgruntled walkers and wildlife, to name a few! To keep you safe, we provide the GPX for your race route.

It is mandatory to have the route loaded and accessible on a mobile device, so you can check you're on track throughout the race and course correct/self-navigate if necessary.

AID STATION PROVISIONS

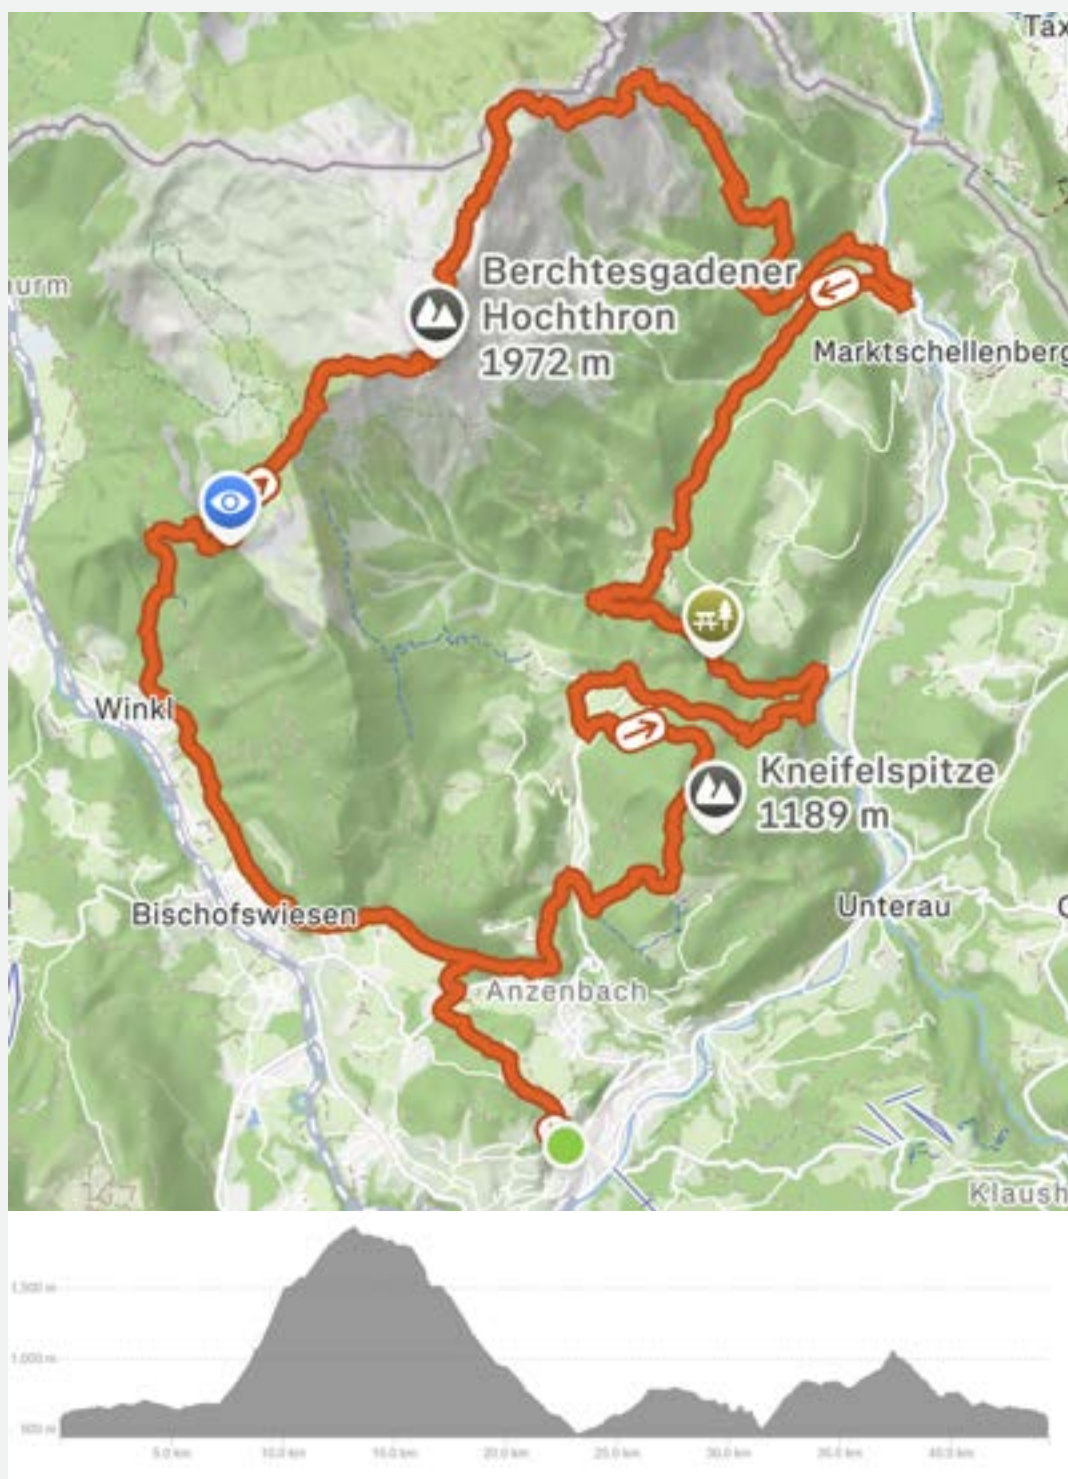

Products on Aid Stations are all sourced locally and so we cannot define exact products available. We can however confirm that we will have the following:

- Water & Coke / Electrolytes
- 2 types of fruit - i.e. oranges / watermelon / bananas etc
- Savoury salty snacks i.e crisps / nuts etc
- Sweet snacks i.e. biscuits, cookies, small cakes

It is mandatory for the 44k & 22k to carry water and fuelling, however we highly advise all runners to carry your own fuelling, and use what you have trained with.

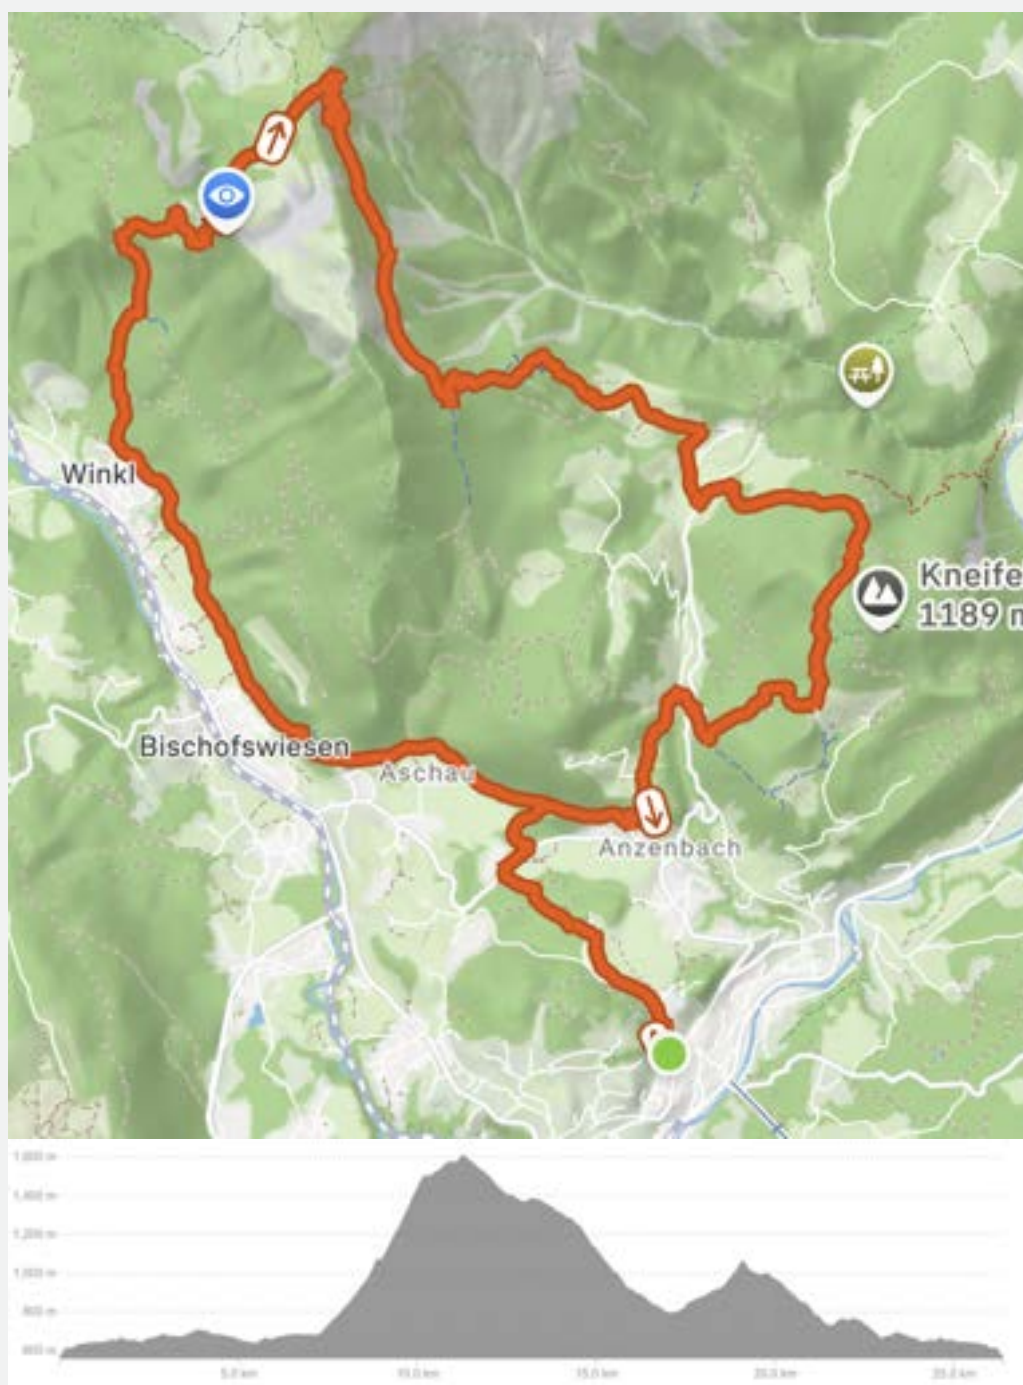

Although not mandatory, we advise 12k runners also carry a bottle/ soft flask for the duration of the race & to refill at the finish. (This is a cupless event, so bottled water won't be provided at the finish.)

SPECTATING/ CREWING

If you'd like to support a runner and provide aid/extra nutrition/a pat on the back along the course, that is absolutely allowed, however, if you do plan on driving out to the aid stations, please ensure access routes are always kept clear for our event medics.

Almbachklamm Aid Station is a great place to catch 44k runners 34km into their race, and 26k runners 16km in. You can access this from HERE.

The 26k & 12k races aren't tracked, therefore we advise sharing your live location with anyone who you'd like to follow you along the way.

If you'd like to track 44km runners- you can do so via the tracking link HERE.

Runners are advised to carry all their own fuelling, but should you wish to meet up with your runner along the way, we recommend planning your journey in advance, as in many sections running route is quicker than driving!

EVENT MERCH

If you have purchased an event T-shirt or hoodie with your race entry, please head to the RT Kit collection desk in the event village, with your order confirmation and we will have your item ready for collection!

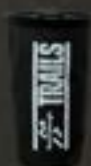

If you've not pre-ordered any kit, but would like to purchase some now, these are available below.

(Please note: Kit purchased within 4 days of the race may not be ready to collect. Any kit not ready for collection will then be posted out.)

PURCHASE HERE

Please note, no kit will be sold on the event day- all merchandise should be pre-ordered to avoid disappointment!

There are a variety of volunteer roles available at the RunThrough Trails events, including:

- Course marking
- Aid station support
- Marshal roles on the course
- Event Village setup and logistics

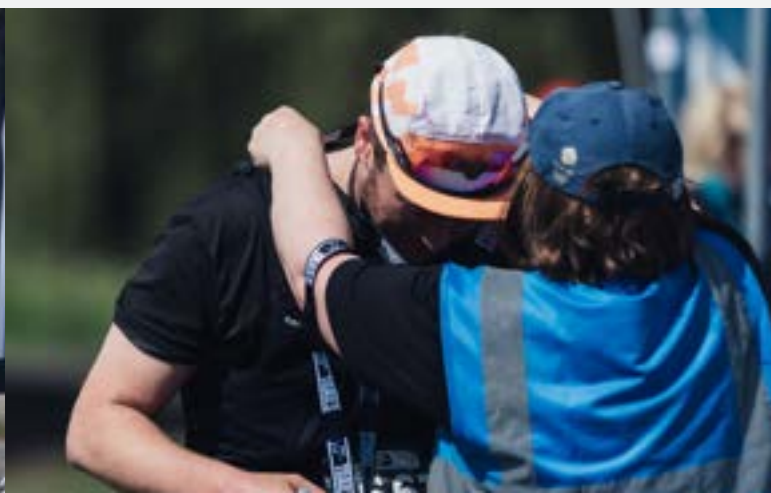

Volunteering is a great way to be part of the race atmosphere, support the trail running community, and enjoy the stunning mountain environment—even if you're not running!

All volunteers receive RunThrough race credits, which can be used towards entry to any RunThrough event or a donation to a charity or local association of your choice.

For more details, check out our Volunteer FAQs

If you have any questions along the way, feel free to reach out to trails@runthrough.co.uk
We'd love to have you on the team!
